Four Effective Producer Secrets [EXPOSED]

1. Study Successful Producers.

There are Thousands of successful musicians in the world, from Classical Composers to Hip Hop Producers. Find them, pick up their errors, and study their accomplishments. This is an important reference for divine guidance, because they will have evidential knowledge for your success. The universe carries all walks of life, applying many different and up-lifting formulas. Discover them...

2. Listen to genres dissimilar to your style.

In person, I never liked Classical, on the other hand I attended a concerto in April where the 3rd movement of Beethoven's Tempest Sonata was performed. The woman playing the piano made me visualize the melodic tunes in a 3Dimensional format, I envisioned the variances inside each layer. Since the moment I watched this performance, all I could do is call back and picture myself modifying it into a hip hop beat, but giving birth to something totally new using similar ingredients. And so today, I listen to different genres of music just to get inspired. whether I'm examining the creativeness in the song, or the layers inside the composition itself. This establishes tons of raw thoughts in my mind because they are completely different from what I generally hear.

3. The Cardinal Change-Over

Occasionally I used to bear with a beat for an hour or so, and most times the outcome was something I did not enjoy. So I tested a new method, what I call the 'Cardinal Change-Over'. I initiated five beats and spent precisely ten-minutes on each one. Using several different ingredients for each one. Once I spent 10 minutes on each beat (fifty minutes later) I took a ten minute break, then went back to the first beat and started the same cycle again but this time adding onto the same five beats.

Before using 'Cardinal Change-Over' method, I was only able conclude to what I was seeking by 40%. Today, when I use the method the results hit 500%. It might seem like a hard thing to do but once you're into it and challenging yourself, nothing will be able to stop you. I have attached the odds which generally come up for me with when using the 'Cardinal Change-Over' method....

1/5 would be a Mainstream Hit – I would use 2/5 as Promotional Beats - 1/5 would be Underground Bangers and what I do with the last 1/5 is put it into a folder called "Scrap Beats" to come-back to in the future. That's 5/5

4. The Team-Work Formula.

Everyone I acknowledge enjoys music, whether they are a familiar rapper or producer. Co-Operate with these individuals, they may supply stimulation with a production. If the additional individual holds a musical theme in their mind, let them sing it out, and then play it out on a keyboard, connect with each other on a spiritual level. The team-work formula is entertaining and is always a memorable experience. The additional individual could choose samples that you generally don't use, this adds spice to what you are making, act upon this area. You are a producer, experimenting should play a big role in your career.
